MY BOY JACK

---

The year is 1913 and Rudyard Kipling is at the height of his literary fame. As one of the British Empire's greatest supporters, he is determined to send his 16 year-old son to fight in the war against Germany, in spite of Jack's very poor eyesight. A bitter family conflict ensues, leaving Kipling torn between his two greatest passions - his devotion to the King and country, and love for his family.

Please note that the play contains some strong language.
